Current Service Centres as at December 1991.

All organisations listed on this sheet are authorised by Commodore Business Machines to carry out any service work that may become necessary for the Commodore products. This list may change from time to time as more service centres are added. Should your Commodore product require servicing you can take it to the service centre nearest to you. However, you must pay for the freight both, to the service centre, and back to yourself. To claim warranty service, it is necessary for you to present proof of purchase (sales invoice or receipt) when submitting your product for service. We suggest that you carefully read the warranty card supplied with your purchase, to ensure that you are aware of the warranty conditions.
