Educational software that works.
Early reading/language comprehension and English as a second language (ESL) skills are learned through the story of The Gingerbread Boy. Pictures and graphs are used to assist sentences, learn word meanings, and build spelling. Concept-driven lessons enhance the ease of use for both early learners and ESL students. A stand-alone audio tape is also included so the student may hear the word meanings as well as see them illustrated on the screen.

Fun. Easy to use. These are the hallmarks of the The Learning Company's family of quality programs. The Learning Company specializes in educational software for children ages 4 to 14 that develops thinking skills while teaching reading, writing, math and spelling.

Now, The Learning Company is proud to present its newest product: The Children's Writing & Publishing Center.

This new revolutionary program brings the fun and exciting world of desktop publishing to children of ages nine and up.

Designed to be easy to use, it stimulates the natural creativity of young people and makes the process of writing fun and rewarding. It combines powerful features in word processing, picture selection and page design. Now children have the tool to produce first-class illustrated reports, letters, stories, newsletters — and anything else they can imagine.

So great is the demand for this product that one software store manager said in amazement, "Our customers are pounding their fists on the counter for The Children's Writing & Publishing Center!"

Every program from The Learning Company is designed by highly qualified educators. Each provides many levels of play, positive reinforcement and animated graphics that delight children. Consumer editions are available in 3.5" and 5.25" formats for Apple® and IBM® and IBM-compatible computers. A complete line of School Editions with classroom activities is also available.

We’ve taken a slightly different approach to creating software for your IIGs.

Most IIGs software is created for everyone else first—for IBM, Commodore, Apple II. Then minor changes are made for the IIG. In fact, sometimes all that changes is the sticker. At Britannica we don’t work that way. We start by designing on the IIG—for the IIG.

That’s why our software takes full advantage of your 4,000 colors, digitized sound, pull-down menus, GS/GS and, of course, your friendly mouse.

So isn’t it time you give your IIG the software it deserves—like these?

JUGSAW! Awarded “Editor’s Choice” in the December ’88 edition of InCider. JUGSAW! was called “deceptively simple, yet maddeningly complex.”

This wonderfully addictive electronic puzzle uses all 4,000 of your IIGs colors in its 34 images. Each image can be scrambled into 8 or 10, or 60 pieces. Then you see how fast you can point and click it back together. Definitely captivating for anyone from 4 to 104.

Designasaurus—Winner of the Best Educational Program award from the Software Publishers Association; this run-away hit is actually three programs in one.

It’s a graphic survival adventure (you’re the dinosaur). It’s mix and match game (create your own species). And it’s a printing program for making dinosaur reports, posters, booklets—even T-shirts.

For dinosaur-lovers of all ages.

Revolution ’76. This spectacularly rich historical simulation is easy to learn. Yet challenging to conquer. You’ll unite colonies. Build armies. Make or break alliances. And pick leaders. Could you have set the groundwork for one of the world’s most successful nations? And how would you have changed America’s history? Play Revolution ’76 and find out.

For time-travellers 14 and up.

Look for all three programs in software stores near you, or call 800/972-2272 (CA: 415/544-1866).

Once you try our software, you’ll see the difference between software created for everyone else and software created just for you.

Appropriate for School Use

The Decision, Decisions series is designed exclusively for the teacher as an aid to teach important subjects in the social studies curriculum. Teachers will present students with "you are there" scenarios and ask them to discuss the issues at hand. Students will then make a decision using historical references both local and outside to see the results of their actions. Each title includes a back-up disk, teacher's guide, teacher management module, student worksheets, 30 student books, and a new guide for teaching critical thinking in the classroom.

SOCIAL STUDIES

DECISIONS, DECISIONS™ SERIES
PLANTS: GROWTH AND SPECIALIZATION
Grade Level: 7th to 8th
Appropriate for School Use
Describes plant cell differentiation, hormone effects on plants, root tip and terminal bud growth, and flower growth. The program describes the development of meristematic tissue into specialized tissue such as pacemaker cells and the development of cambium tissue in xylem and phloem. Requires IBM PC color display or equivalent.

PHYSICS
Grade Level: 7th and Up
Appropriate for School Use
Introduces students to basic principles of physics including motion, force, energy, and waves. Requires IBM PC color display or equivalent.

PROTOZOA
Grade Level: 6th to 8th
Appropriate for School Use
Explores the microscopic world of Protozoa. Learn about the structures and functions within amoeba, Euglena, Paramecium and the Malaria Cycle. Colorful animations, exciting identification games and multiple choice quiz. A bonus Microscope Study Unit is also included. Complete teacher's guide with convenient, reproducible worksheets are included.

SCIENCE 7/8
Grade Level: 7th and 8th
For Home and School Use
Introduces students to the concepts of acceleration, velocity, force, and mass and their interrelation with experiencing with a car at a test track. Graphical representations show how changing one of the variables affects the others. Upon completion of the course, students should be able to determine which measurable variables affect acceleration and then design experiments to determine what the variables are. Requires IBM PC color display or equivalent.

Investigating Conservation of Energy
Grade Level: 6th to 8th
Appropriate for School Use
Uses an imaginative carnival roller coaster to help students understand the concept of potential and kinetic energy, mass, acceleration of gravity, height and speed, and friction. Upon completion of the program, students should be able to describe the relationship between variables in determining their effect on potential and kinetic energy. Requires IBM PC color display or equivalent.

physics
Grade Level: 7th to 8th
Appropriate for School Use
Introduces general concepts of physics in a sequential manner. Requires IBM PC color display or equivalent.
Voice output is now an integral part of computer-based learning, especially at the primary level and with students with special needs.

Although there are a few good programs available which process "software only" voice, it is still necessary to use a dedicated speech add-on peripheral or plug-in board for nearly all of the "talking" educational software. The Echo products provide an extremely easy-to-use tool for making the student's time on the computer more successful by offering verbal assistance and feedback. The Echo products have set the standard for low cost, quality speech output for microcomputers for the past eight years. Most of the leading school software companies support the Echo with hundreds of compatible "talking" programs.

There are Echoes for every Apple or MS-DOS-based computer used in the classroom.

FREE PRINTER SHARING PLANNING GUIDE

PaceMark created this comprehensive planning guide to give you an in-depth understanding of the concepts, advantages and applications of printer sharing in today's typical educational environment. For your FREE copy, write PaceMark Technologies or call our Toll-free Information Hotline (800) 502-5200 Ext. 888.

POWER FOR EVERY COMPUTER TO HAVE ACCESS TO A PRINTER

Now you have the power that allows any combination of your computers to efficiently share one or more printers—automatically, quickly and simultaneously.

A power that requires no switching whatever. A power that eliminates the time-wasting nuisance of swapping disks and the work stoppage that comes with waiting until the printer is free.

In addition, the internal high-speed memory buffer allows your students and teachers to work at 100% efficiency. This buffer, expandable to 512K, stores data sent by each computer in the sharing network and continuously feeds the information to your printer on a first-in, first-out basis. Since the Falcon ACS™ offers complete simultaneous capability, all of your computers can download data at the same time with no conflict... which means no more waiting.

A Lesson In Falcon Economics
Not only is Falcon ACS compatible with virtually all computers and printers, it really makes the grade when it comes to stretching your budget.

Instead of spending thousands of dollars on a roomful of printers, which probably sit idle much of the time, budgeting a great deal less for a Falcon will increase your productivity while lowering your equipment costs. It's a textbook example of good economics and the ideal solution for any classroom or computer lab.

PaceMark Technologies, Inc.

In A Class By Itself
Simple to install, easy to use, Falcon ACS offers more unique features and benefits than any other system. It is proudly made in the U.S.A. and comes with a one-year limited warranty.

Everything isn't what it used to be.

With a word processor, spreadsheet and database in one package, AppleWorks has just about everything an Apple II owner could want.

You can jump from one program to another in the blink of an eye. Which makes AppleWorks an exceptional choice for fast-paced businesses.

AppleWorks is the best-selling Apple software of all time. And if you own an Apple IIe or IIc, you still can't buy a more powerful program.

Like AppleWorks, AppleWorks GS offers a powerful word processor. And you can enhance your work with type styles, sizes and fonts.

AppleWorks GS can read all your AppleWorks files. And when you transfer your spreadsheets to AppleWorks GS, you can add graphics.

The database lets you store and sort thousands of business, school or home records. And now you can use a mouse and pull-down menus.

A graphics program that seamlessly combines bit-mapped painting and object-oriented drawing capabilities will leave Macintosh users jealous.

AppleWorks GS includes the most powerful Apple II page-layout program you can buy. Put all the pieces together then publish them.

A spell checker with an 80,000 word dictionary is built in. Ditto for a thesaurus that can make you more articulate, eloquent or perspicacious.

What you see is what you get. Because any Apple ImageWriter or LaserWriter printer prints what you see on the screen exactly how you see it. Automatically.

AppleWorks GS supports most popular modems to let you send and receive files via telephone.

Introducing AppleWorks GS.

Six powerful programs in one easy-to-use package. Six programs working together to exploit the full resources of the Apple IIgs.

There's even a deal in the works for owners of AppleWorks, MultiScribe and MultiScribe GS.

A special upgrade offer that, as they say on late-night TV, will not be repeats.

Upgrade to AppleWorks GS and save.

We'll even pay for the phone call. Dial 800-544-8554 to get your upgrade kit now. And soon you'll have everything going for you again.

© 1988, Claris Corporation. All Rights Reserved. AppleWorks is a registered trademark of Apple Computer, Inc. In Canada, call 800/668-0495. AppleWorks GS requires an Apple IIgs with 1 MB of RAM, a hard disk and MultiScribe GS.

THE CHOICES ARE OBVIOUS
When it comes to input devices, you have a lot of choices. There are people who still use joysticks shaped like fruits and vegetables - lemons and potatoes for instance. Others offer cursor controllers that look like hand grenades, the steering wheel of a '57 Chevy, baseball bats and cheese graters. Still others make joysticks which, when viewed together, look like 22 varieties of toasty-frothy ice cream.

At Suncom, we don't understand the reasoning behind all this decoration. Our best guess is that it's intended to conceal products that, frankly, might not work so well.

Since 1982 (that's long, long ago in the computer business), Suncom has made well-engineered joysticks, graphics tablets, mice and a broad line of other computer accessories that do work well. Millions of them. Backed by the strongest warranties in the business. Sold all over the U.S. and the rest of the world. To millions of people, just like you.

Many of them have written to us to say that they wouldn't use another brand, even for free. Because they know that when it comes to computer accessories, there really is no other choice.

MECC. A name you can trust.

Educational computing awards are the mark of successful software. MECC has won more than two dozen awards for its innovative products from respected publications such as Classroom Computer Learning, Parents' Choice, and A+.

But when MECC's software teams design a product, they're not preoccupied with awards or potential recognition. Their focus is on education. Every MECC product is academically sound, based on continual feedback from teachers and parents nationwide.

Products designed for every user.

Teachers rely on MECC software's helpful management options and ease of use. This way, students' individual abilities can be closely matched with the most appropriate levels of difficulty.

Children delight in MECC's captivating graphics and irresistible characters, such as Munchers and Zoombies. And true-to-life simulations such as The Oregon Trail encourage children to solve problems while having fun.

Parents also trust MECC's home products to continue education at home. By practicing the same skills both at home and at school, students can reinforce what they've learned.

Software for every subject.

MECC offers more than 200 products, from early learning skills to higher-level science. And, because most MECC software includes a variety of levels, they will continue to be challenging. It's time for you to explore the most trusted name in educational computing.

The Leader in Educational Computing.
